

BAR HARBOR FOLKS OUT AT A BENEFIT

Notable Gathering in the Interests of Hampton Institute.

THE HORSE SHOW PLANS

Swimming Club Has Begun Its Weekly Dinner Dances at Resort.

BAR HARBOR, Me., July 20.—A gathering noteworthy from a social point of view was brought out Monday afternoon at the attractive grove near the Building of Arts by the annual meeting in the interest of Hampton Institute, whose body of students, twenty-five in number, are touring the eastern part of the country in an effort to raise funds for the institution. Their camp was pitched here Saturday, and folk songs and tableaux illustrative of the negro and Indian life made up the programme.

A noteworthy list of patrons and patronesses had charge, including Mrs. Robert Abbe, Mrs. George S. Bowdoin, Miss Jane Cary, Mrs. Edward Cole, Mrs. E. C. Cushman, Mrs. Alfred M. Coates, Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, George B. Dorr, Mrs. Frank Fremont-Smith, Mrs. John B. Henderson, Mrs. Morris K. Jessup, Mrs. Frank McLaughlin, Mrs. John I. Kane, Mrs. John S. Kennedy, Mrs. Kingdall, Mrs. W. S. Kuhn, Mrs. Walter G. Ladd, Mrs. Linzee, Mrs. Livingston, Mrs. Lea McLaughlin, Mrs. Edward B. McLean, Mrs. Markes Frederick May, the Misses Minot, Gen. Edward Morrill, Mrs. David Hennen Morris, David B. Ogden, Mrs. Herbert Parsons, Mrs. Austin Phelps, Mrs. Robert Potter, Mrs. J. M. P. Price, Mrs. William R. Rich, Mrs. George N. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin, Mrs. Edgar Scott and Mrs. Buchanan Winthrop.

On Wednesday a Hampton meeting was held at Northeast Harbor on the lawn of Mrs. Lindley Hoffman Chapin, and Thursday at the Seaside Inn, Seal Harbor. Mr. and Mrs. A. Eugene Gallatin have issued cards for a ball at the Kebo Valley Club on Monday evening, August 12.

The midweek hops at the Malvern began this week and will continue during July and August. The evening concerts at the hotel by Boston Symphony players began Monday.

The directors of the Bar Harbor Horse Show got together this week and planned the annual exhibition, setting the dates for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 20, 21 and 22. This is by far the most important event of the summer at Bar Harbor, and though this is the thirtieth year that the show is given it is by no means the hoodoo year, for the indications are that the finest class of animals since its organization will be in the ring. Philip Livingston of New York last year succeeded Gen. Edward Morrill as president, who retired after twelve years of guiding the destinies of the show, and Mr. Livingston will spare no effort to make this the crowning year.

The swimming club began its weekly dinner dances Saturday evening and a brilliant body of dancers was on the floor. Among the dinner givers before the dancing were George K. Davis and A. Eugene Gallatin. Mr. Davis had a distinctly diplomatic act among his guests, who included Mr. and Mrs. D. B. C. Gatherwood, Mrs. Ireland, Mrs. Warner M. Lewis, Miss Elsie Williams, Count Ronde, F. M. Schmeckel and Baron Freudenbach.

Mrs. J. Riddle Porter will give a garden party on Tuesday, August 6, to introduce her daughter, Miss Elizabeth East Porter, who will be a debutante next winter in Philadelphia. Miss Porter is a prominent figure on the swimming club courts and a popular girl of the younger set.

The Hon. and Mrs. Alfred Anson are spending their honeymoon very quietly at the Turrets after a brief wedding trip. Later it is expected that they will take a prominent part in society, and a number of social affairs will be given in their honor. The new bride and bridegroom form one of the interesting couples at Bar Harbor this season.

Mrs. Edward Blair entertained at luncheon Wednesday at the De Greigore. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont, who came this week, occupying the Maitland cottage, are among the week's noteworthy accessions to the cottage set. As Mr. Belmont is much occupied with political affairs this summer he will spend little time at Bar Harbor and will spend frequent trips to New York and Washington.

Mrs. D. Henry Knowlton entertained at dinner at the De Greigore on Thursday evening, followed by bridge.

POLAND SPRINGS, ME.

POLAND SPRINGS, Me., July 20.—The arrival of the old guard is popularizing golf at Poland Springs.

Dr. W. S. Harban of Washington, John Bolton of Philadelphia, Garrett A. Hobart of Paterson and Edward J. Stettin were prominent contestants in the first of the medal play handicaps which rounded out the week.

The arrival of Mrs. S. M. Inman of Atlanta has given the usual impetus to equitation, while Senator Foraker's presence brings arrival into prominence.

Late arrivals include Mrs. D. N. Vandermere and Dr. F. E. Clark of New York; ex-Gov. N. G. Bulkeley of Connecticut; Judge and Mrs. Henry W. Prager of Boston; Major S. W. Saxton of Washington; Fred Le Franche and Mrs. George W. Barnes of Brooklyn; Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Holton of Worcester; and J. G. Hazard of Boston.

KINEO, MAINE

KINEO, Me., July 20.—The entire colony gathered this afternoon to enjoy the first of the handicap motor boat races of the Moosehead Lake Yacht Club, the culminating event of a week devoted to baseball, trap and rifle shooting, golf and tennis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Rasmus, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Benzenger, H. C. Erlin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feuchtwanger, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Welch, G. W. Collard and Miss Collard are among the late New York arrivals.

MAPLEWOOD, N. H.

MAPLEWOOD, N. H., July 20.—Seldom have visitors made more of the attractions of the mountains than during the present summer, auto trips and excursions to nearby points of interest, camps to surrounding mountain peaks and trapping and fishing excursions rounding out the days.

In addition to the July golf tournament a tennis tournament for men is under way, while continuous score shooting is attracting the attention of the men and pistol shots.

Among those registered at the Maplewood are Mrs. Abner Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. William Culvers, Messrs. J. B. Furrill and W. H. Miller, W. H. Macdonald, S. E. Macdonald and Samuel H. Wandell, J. M. Lederwood, Mrs. F. D. McBride, Miss McBride, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Green, Mrs. B. Gallagher, Mrs. M. P. Wilson, Mrs. Henry Hoyne and Miss Hoyne, Mrs. E. A. Snider and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Shedd and family, all of New York.

PROFILE, N. H.

PROFILE, N. H., July 20.—The week has brought many arrivals to this resort, where interest is centered in the semi-weekly dances and various informal affairs at the cottages.

Among others who will spend August here are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hoyt and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Bayless, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Watjen, Mrs. G. E. McLaughlin, Mrs. J. L. Tallon, Mrs. B. H. Briscoe, Mrs. F. M. Bangs, Mrs. J. C. Tappin, Miss Albertine Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Painter of Pittsburgh, Miss Annie E. M. Wild of Rochester, John T. Busiel and Miss Busiel of Laconia, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bonaparte of Baltimore.

NEW CASTLE, N. H.

NEW CASTLE, N. H., July 20.—The presence of officers of the Equitable Life Assurance Society has been enjoyed by the entire household at the Wentworth, the diversions including excursions by land and sea, baseball, golf, tennis and aquatic sports combining happily with the bridge and dancing. The group included Second Vice-President George T. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, Third Vice-President L. A. Fisher and Mrs. Fisher, Medical Director A. L. Sherill, Assistant Secretary F. S. McCurdy, all of New York.

Late arrivals who are here for extended visits include Mr. and Mrs. M. V. M. Powelson, Roger Powelson and Mrs. Helen Roger of Briarcliff Manor, Mrs. C. D. Becker, J. W. Becker, Mr. J.

open. Mr. and Mrs. Archibald S. Alexander were among those who came up Saturday. They were accompanied by Mrs. C. D. Barnes and Miss Barnes, who are staying at the Barney camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Heyward of McAlpin are at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McAlpin, where they will be joined in a fortnight by Mr. and Mrs. T. Edward Hamilton of Baltimore. Emmons Blaine also arrived at camp this week and will be joined in a few days by his mother, Mrs. Emmons Blaine, nee Anna McCord of Chicago.

Archibald S. White is spending a few days at his Osgood Lake camp. The Osgood colony was augmented this week by the arrival of Mrs. Craig Lippincott of Philadelphia at the Lippincott camp.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Townsend 2d have joined Mrs. William K. Townsend at The Rocks, her attractive camp on Upper St. Regis Lake, adjoining the Japanese camp of Frederick W. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. J. H. Haselhurst and sister, Miss McCoy of New York, are guests of Miss R. Augusta Polhemus at Camp Edgewood on Spittire Lake. Mr. and Mrs. A. Clarke Robinson of Paris are visiting Mrs. Robinson's father, Simeon J. Drake, on Spittire Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Darte of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., are on Spittire Lake as guests of Mrs. Allen Dickson at her camp.

Miss Ellen Taylor has opened her attractive camp on Upper St. Regis. Frederick Taylor is at camp.

Dr. and Mrs. George Fales Baker are entering Mrs. Norma Huselton of Pittsburgh at their series of cottages at Paul Smith's. Miss Huselton is an enthusiastic golfer and spends much time on the links.

Among the other visitors taking much interest in the game are J. Insley Blair, Heyward McAlpin, William Rauch, Rudolph Rauch, Henry H. Benedict and Dr. Morris Carpenter. Tennis also has many followers, among the most devoted of whom are Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cameron, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Benedict, Mr. Swenarten and A. C. Robinson.

Several travelling parties have visited Paul Smith's and toured the beautiful lakes of the St. Regis chain. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. John B. Frothingham of Brooklyn and their son, William C. Frothingham, who came from Lake Placid; Mrs. W. B. Pizzini and Mrs. Florence Logan of Richmond, with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Zonne and Miss Winifred Cole of Minneapolis. Mrs. Pizzini made a second trip, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph H. Wurltizer and Miss Klehards.

Arrivals at Paul Smith's include Mr. and Mrs. E. Latour, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walker, Mrs. John A. Davis, Mrs. Anna Corlton Ball, Mrs. M. F. Murdock, Edward Gilligan, T. J. ## PAUL SMITH'S.

Fishing at Its Best—Kimball Rogers' Experience.

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., July 20.—Adirondack angling is excellent this season and has been productive of many unusual experiences, one of which fell to the lot of Kimball Rogers of New York, a guest at the Lower St. Regis camp of George Arents, Jr. In company with the camp guide, Alvah Bennett, Mr. Rogers journeyed to Osgood Lake to wage war on the large pickerel to be found there.

Several good sized fish had been taken when the pickerel suddenly seemed to lose interest in the bait. Mr. Rogers trolled around for a time and finally decided to go home. About that time a good sized pickerel seized the hook and then lunged to get away. Mr. Rogers played the fish to tire it, but seemed unable to get the big fellow any nearer the boat.

Suddenly the line broke and the fish made a clean getaway. The disgruntled anglers returned to camp. Two days later they returned to Osgood for another try at the pickerel. While rowing along the shore near their former encounter they noticed a large pickerel in the water.

The fish was acting queerly, so the anglers studied its movements. They realized the fact that the pickerel seemed to be anchored to a log and would swim the length of a short line and back. Awaiting their opportunity as the pickerel came near the surface they scooped it in with the net and were amazed to find that it was the fish which they had hooked and snagged on the previous visit. The pickerel weighed ten pounds and Mr. Rogers recovered the fish.

Anglers none the worse for the incident, campers have been arriving in good numbers this week and practically every summer home along the lakes is

THE FORESTRY CONGRESS

Season Will Be Extended Into Middle of October, It Is Thought.

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 20.—The American Forestry Association completed its fifth annual convention at the Mount Washington to-day and left for New York on a special train. Governors from several States attended the meeting and discussed plans for conserving the forests of their respective commonwealths.

Gov. Robert P. Bass and the Forestry Commission of New Hampshire met the directors of the association, who came up on a special train from New York to Concord, N. H., on Wednesday morning, and conveyed them by automobile to the Deer Park Hotel, North Woodstock, N. H., where they spent the night. The next morning they arrived at Bretton Woods and immediately went into session.

Plans were discussed at the meeting for the purchase of the famous Lost River region and the Kinman Notch countries. The Publishers' Paper Company is the owner of these properties. Through its courtesy in cooperating with the Society for the Protection of New Hampshire Forests it is likely that the scheme of conservation already actively pursued in the White Mountains by this society will include the purchase of Kinman Notch and Lost River, to be held by the State as a place of beauty and guarded from commercialism.

Automobilists are reviving the trip into the clouds, as the ascent up Mount Washington by automobile is called. This was a popular pastime some time ago, but within recent years has been abandoned on account of the poor condition of the road, which made the ascent dangerous. But the road is now in the pink of condition.

"Close later" has become a popular slogan at Bretton Woods. Formerly it was the custom of the Bretton Woods Company to close the Mount Washington Hotel on October 1. Now it intends to keep the hostelry open until October 21. Recent arrivals at the Mount Washington are: From New York—H. E. Spaulding, A. L. Osgood, F. S. Regan, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. M. Grundner, Miss Mary Grundner, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo A. Thornton, Lionel Barner, Hoyt Barner and Ralph P. Schott. From Brooklyn—C. W. Seaman. From Chicago—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cook.

SHELTER ISLAND.

SHELTER ISLAND, N. Y., July 20.—That hot spell has sent droves of resorters to Shelter Island, where they can get a night's sleep in comfort. So cool has it been at this resort in fact that outdoor activities have increased instead of diminished. Golf especially is popular. Stephen Baldwin of Brooklyn has given a solid silver cup to the Golf Club for a handicap tournament. This has lent impetus to the sport.

Yachting has many devotees. Those who are fortunate to have sailing or power craft cruise daily around the landlocked waters of Gardiner's Bay. Motor boating has come to the fore this season. Leonard D. Fluke of Hartford, Conn., has donated three cups to the Shelter Island Yacht Club to be won in competition.

Bridge is to be a feature hereafter on Thursday nights at the Prospect House. The first big party of the season was held on Thursday of this week and proved to be a great success. Many handsome prizes were awarded to the winners.

Shelter Island is a Mecca for automobilists. Being about a hundred miles from New York it makes an enjoyable day's run. It is appealing now more than ever because the new State road from Shelter Island Heights to the South Ferry is now completed. The Southfield road is again open to the public after extensive repairs.

The Church of Our Lady of the Isle, of which the Rev. Isidor Smith, C. F., is vicar, will hold a bazaar in the grand ballroom of the Prospect House on August 7, 8 and 9. The proceeds of the fair will be used in improving the church.
